no show

Welcome to the comfort zone of an art show
 A display of objects and gestures declared art.

The artwork between being and not being, between the idea and its materialization. Turning our attention to the flickering in-between of the full potential and the unanswered question.
 A hidden movement or sound.
 A placeholder.
 An abundant presence of absence.
 The show in a state of haunting limbo.
 Maybe all disappointment.
 Reluctance materialized.
 The artwork looking away and startling.
 A room full of untouched toys and games.
 Choking the algorithm of artistic display.
 Positioning, form, duration and magnitude, all terrorized.

Let's not do nothing, but carefully consider what we are doing.
